

Philip Nethercote, Ph.D.

Organization: GlaxoSmithKline
United Kingdom

Presentation: Quality of Manufactured Medicines – New Compendial Initiatives
Performance Based Monographs
Wednesday, September 23, 2009; 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Phil Nethercote is a Chemistry Graduate from Heriott-Watt University (1982) and obtained his PhD from Stirling University looking at HPLC retention mechanisms- (1987). Phil Glaxo in 1987 at the API manufacturing site in Montrose as an Analytical roles development Scientist in the new product introduction department. He held a number of roles at Montrose in Quality Assurance and laterally led the analytical development groups across all the GlaxoWellcome API sites.

In 2000 Phil moved to Singapore to lead the Analytical Development group there before returning to the Irvine site in 2004 as Analytical lead for the GlaxoSmithKline API supply organization. In Feb 2007 he was appointed to the role of Director New Product Support within the GSK Quality Analytical Sciences team with responsibility for ensuring all drug product and API analytical methods being developed in support of new product introductions meet the needs of the GSK manufacturing organization.