

September 1, 2021

Dear Valued Customer,

Thank you for your continued support of U.S. Pharmacopeia's mission through your purchase of USP Reference Standards. As a global, self-funded not-for-profit organization, your purchases directly fund the ongoing stability testing for current reference standards, production of replacement lots, and creation of new reference standards. Your support also offsets the costs of creating the documentary standards and educational programs used globally by manufacturers, regulators and testing facilities to bring quality medicines, supplements and foods to patients and consumers.

As in all essential industries, COVID-19 has increased the cost of operations in our global network and now, global inflation is adding additional cost. To continue the critical work of producing Compendial reference standards at the same pace and level of scientific rigor, continue to create and revise documentary standards, and create useful educational programs, USP will adjust pricing on all USP Reference Standards up by 3%, effective on October 1, 2021.

As the world recovers from the impact of COVID-19, the need for quality medicines, supplements and foods is even more necessary and critical. Your continued support of our mission to improve global health through public quality standards is vitally important.

For additional information, questions, or concerns, please contact your USP representative, local distributor partner or call +1-301-881-0666, 1-800-227-8772 (U.S.), or 00-800-4875-5555 (International).

Best Regards,

Christine Feaster

Christine Feaster
VP Global Commercial Operations